About Me

Currently studying Computer Science at UNICSUL, I'm already aware of broader concepts such as data structure, algorithms, OOP, among others, and with the intention of becoming a professional in software engineering or in a related area. After more than a year of searching, I luckily found this niche in which I identified myself and had the opportunity to create incredible tools to help people!

Languages

Portuguese: born and raised in Brazil. I use Portuguese as my native language.

English: advanced knowledge in reading; intermediate knowledge in speaking and writing.

Spanish: little knowledge in conversation; no knowledge in writing and reading.
